

Emotional Awareness & Regulation Workbook

A full workbook for emotions, intensity, triggers, body sensations, urges, and regulation tools.

Covers fear, anxiety, sadness, anger, shame, guilt, mixed emotions, and personal regulation planning.

Contents

1. Initial Emotion Map

2. Emotion Intensity Over Time

3. Fear and Anxiety

4. Sadness, Low Mood, and Heaviness

5. Anger and Frustration

6. Shame and Guilt

7. Events That Activate Emotions

8. Body Sensations and Action Urges

9. Emotional Reaction Versus Regulated Response

10. Real-Time Regulation Tools

11. Before, During, and After an Event

12. Mixed Emotions and Inner Conflict

13. Calming Inner Conversation

14. Personal Regulation Plan

Reminder

These workbooks are for self-reflection, therapeutic practice, and continued work between sessions. They are not a substitute for professional care, diagnosis, or medical advice.

Form 1

Initial Emotion Map

Name the main emotions around one situation.

What this form is for

To support emotional awareness and regulation by naming feelings, intensity, triggers, body signals, and responses.

How to use it

Choose one recent situation or recurring emotional pattern. Work with mild to moderate intensity when practicing alone.

How intense is the emotion right now?

Before writing, rate from 0 (low) to 10 (very strong):

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

Emotion and trigger

What emotion is present?

What situation or thought activated it?

What made it stronger?

Body and urge

Where do I feel this in my body?

What does the emotion push me to do?

What is the earliest sign I can notice?

Helpful response

What helps reduce intensity slightly?

What response protects me without making things worse?

Who or what can support me?

Learning

What did I learn about this emotion?

What tool do I want to practice?

What will I try next time?

Practice suggestion

Choose one regulation tool and practice it once when calm, so it is easier to use when stressed.

Reminder

This workbook is for self-reflection and practice. It is not a substitute for professional care.

Form 2

Emotion Intensity Over Time

Track how emotion rises, peaks, and softens.

What this form is for

To support emotional awareness and regulation by naming feelings, intensity, triggers, body signals, and responses.

How to use it

Choose one recent situation or recurring emotional pattern. Work with mild to moderate intensity when practicing alone.

How intense is the emotion right now?

Before writing, rate from 0 (low) to 10 (very strong):

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

Emotion and trigger

What emotion is present?

What situation or thought activated it?

What made it stronger?

Body and urge

Where do I feel this in my body?

What does the emotion push me to do?

What is the earliest sign I can notice?

Helpful response

What helps reduce intensity slightly?

What response protects me without making things worse?

Who or what can support me?

Learning

What did I learn about this emotion?

What tool do I want to practice?

What will I try next time?

Practice suggestion

Choose one regulation tool and practice it once when calm, so it is easier to use when stressed.

Reminder

This workbook is for self-reflection and practice. It is not a substitute for professional care.

Form 3

Fear and Anxiety

Understand fear, worry, threat, and safety behaviors.

What this form is for

To support emotional awareness and regulation by naming feelings, intensity, triggers, body signals, and responses.

How to use it

Choose one recent situation or recurring emotional pattern. Work with mild to moderate intensity when practicing alone.

How intense is the emotion right now?

Before writing, rate from 0 (low) to 10 (very strong):

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

Emotion and trigger

What emotion is present?

What situation or thought activated it?

What made it stronger?

Body and urge

Where do I feel this in my body?

What does the emotion push me to do?

What is the earliest sign I can notice?

Helpful response

What helps reduce intensity slightly?

What response protects me without making things worse?

Who or what can support me?

Learning

What did I learn about this emotion?

What tool do I want to practice?

What will I try next time?

Practice suggestion

Choose one regulation tool and practice it once when calm, so it is easier to use when stressed.

Reminder

This workbook is for self-reflection and practice. It is not a substitute for professional care.

Form 4

Sadness, Low Mood, and Heaviness

Give sadness space while identifying needs and supports.

What this form is for

To support emotional awareness and regulation by naming feelings, intensity, triggers, body signals, and responses.

How to use it

Choose one recent situation or recurring emotional pattern. Work with mild to moderate intensity when practicing alone.

How intense is the emotion right now?

Before writing, rate from 0 (low) to 10 (very strong):

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

Emotion and trigger

What emotion is present?

What situation or thought activated it?

What made it stronger?

Body and urge

Where do I feel this in my body?

What does the emotion push me to do?

What is the earliest sign I can notice?

Helpful response

What helps reduce intensity slightly?

What response protects me without making things worse?

Who or what can support me?

Learning

What did I learn about this emotion?

What tool do I want to practice?

What will I try next time?

Practice suggestion

Choose one regulation tool and practice it once when calm, so it is easier to use when stressed.

Reminder

This workbook is for self-reflection and practice. It is not a substitute for professional care.

Form 5

Anger and Frustration

Understand anger as a signal of boundary, hurt, pressure, or need.

What this form is for

To support emotional awareness and regulation by naming feelings, intensity, triggers, body signals, and responses.

How to use it

Choose one recent situation or recurring emotional pattern. Work with mild to moderate intensity when practicing alone.

How intense is the emotion right now?

Before writing, rate from 0 (low) to 10 (very strong):

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

Emotion and trigger

What emotion is present?

What situation or thought activated it?

What made it stronger?

Body and urge

Where do I feel this in my body?

What does the emotion push me to do?

What is the earliest sign I can notice?

Helpful response

What helps reduce intensity slightly?

What response protects me without making things worse?

Who or what can support me?

Learning

What did I learn about this emotion?

What tool do I want to practice?

What will I try next time?

Practice suggestion

Choose one regulation tool and practice it once when calm, so it is easier to use when stressed.

Reminder

This workbook is for self-reflection and practice. It is not a substitute for professional care.

Form 6

Shame and Guilt

Separate responsibility from self-attack.

What this form is for

To support emotional awareness and regulation by naming feelings, intensity, triggers, body signals, and responses.

How to use it

Choose one recent situation or recurring emotional pattern. Work with mild to moderate intensity when practicing alone.

How intense is the emotion right now?

Before writing, rate from 0 (low) to 10 (very strong):

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

Emotion and trigger

What emotion is present?

What situation or thought activated it?

What made it stronger?

Body and urge

Where do I feel this in my body?

What does the emotion push me to do?

What is the earliest sign I can notice?

Helpful response

What helps reduce intensity slightly?

What response protects me without making things worse?

Who or what can support me?

Learning

What did I learn about this emotion?

What tool do I want to practice?

What will I try next time?

Practice suggestion

Choose one regulation tool and practice it once when calm, so it is easier to use when stressed.

Reminder

This workbook is for self-reflection and practice. It is not a substitute for professional care.

Form 7

Events That Activate Emotions

Identify triggers and early signs before overwhelm grows.

What this form is for

To support emotional awareness and regulation by naming feelings, intensity, triggers, body signals, and responses.

How to use it

Choose one recent situation or recurring emotional pattern. Work with mild to moderate intensity when practicing alone.

How intense is the emotion right now?

Before writing, rate from 0 (low) to 10 (very strong):

0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	----

Emotion and trigger

What emotion is present?

What situation or thought activated it?

What made it stronger?

Body and urge

Where do I feel this in my body?

What does the emotion push me to do?

What is the earliest sign I can notice?

Helpful response

What helps reduce intensity slightly?

What response protects me without making things worse?

Who or what can support me?

Learning

What did I learn about this emotion?

What tool do I want to practice?

What will I try next time?

Practice suggestion

Choose one regulation tool and practice it once when calm, so it is easier to use when stressed.

Reminder

This workbook is for self-reflection and practice. It is not a substitute for professional care.

Form 8

Body Sensations and Action Urges

Create a pause between feeling and action.

What this form is for

To support emotional awareness and regulation by naming feelings, intensity, triggers, body signals, and responses.

How to use it

Choose one recent situation or recurring emotional pattern. Work with mild to moderate intensity when practicing alone.

How intense is the emotion right now?

Before writing, rate from 0 (low) to 10 (very strong):

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

Emotion and trigger

What emotion is present?

What situation or thought activated it?

What made it stronger?

Body and urge

Where do I feel this in my body?

What does the emotion push me to do?

What is the earliest sign I can notice?

Helpful response

What helps reduce intensity slightly?

What response protects me without making things worse?

Who or what can support me?

Learning

What did I learn about this emotion?

What tool do I want to practice?

What will I try next time?

Practice suggestion

Choose one regulation tool and practice it once when calm, so it is easier to use when stressed.

Reminder

This workbook is for self-reflection and practice. It is not a substitute for professional care.

Form 9

Emotional Reaction Versus Regulated Response

Compare automatic reactions with chosen responses.

What this form is for

To support emotional awareness and regulation by naming feelings, intensity, triggers, body signals, and responses.

How to use it

Choose one recent situation or recurring emotional pattern. Work with mild to moderate intensity when practicing alone.

How intense is the emotion right now?

Before writing, rate from 0 (low) to 10 (very strong):

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

Emotion and trigger

What emotion is present?

What situation or thought activated it?

What made it stronger?

Body and urge

Where do I feel this in my body?

What does the emotion push me to do?

What is the earliest sign I can notice?

Helpful response

What helps reduce intensity slightly?

What response protects me without making things worse?

Who or what can support me?

Learning

What did I learn about this emotion?

What tool do I want to practice?

What will I try next time?

Practice suggestion

Choose one regulation tool and practice it once when calm, so it is easier to use when stressed.

Reminder

This workbook is for self-reflection and practice. It is not a substitute for professional care.

Form 10

Real-Time Regulation Tools

Choose brief tools for body, thought, connection, and environment.

What this form is for

To support emotional awareness and regulation by naming feelings, intensity, triggers, body signals, and responses.

How to use it

Choose one recent situation or recurring emotional pattern. Work with mild to moderate intensity when practicing alone.

How intense is the emotion right now?

Before writing, rate from 0 (low) to 10 (very strong):

0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	----

Emotion and trigger

What emotion is present?

What situation or thought activated it?

What made it stronger?

Body and urge

Where do I feel this in my body?

What does the emotion push me to do?

What is the earliest sign I can notice?

Helpful response

What helps reduce intensity slightly?

What response protects me without making things worse?

Who or what can support me?

Learning

What did I learn about this emotion?

What tool do I want to practice?

What will I try next time?

Practice suggestion

Choose one regulation tool and practice it once when calm, so it is easier to use when stressed.

Reminder

This workbook is for self-reflection and practice. It is not a substitute for professional care.

Form 11

Before, During, and After an Event

Plan regulation in three stages around a difficult situation.

What this form is for

To support emotional awareness and regulation by naming feelings, intensity, triggers, body signals, and responses.

How to use it

Choose one recent situation or recurring emotional pattern. Work with mild to moderate intensity when practicing alone.

How intense is the emotion right now?

Before writing, rate from 0 (low) to 10 (very strong):

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

Emotion and trigger

What emotion is present?

What situation or thought activated it?

What made it stronger?

Body and urge

Where do I feel this in my body?

What does the emotion push me to do?

What is the earliest sign I can notice?

Helpful response

What helps reduce intensity slightly?

What response protects me without making things worse?

Who or what can support me?

Learning

What did I learn about this emotion?

What tool do I want to practice?

What will I try next time?

Practice suggestion

Choose one regulation tool and practice it once when calm, so it is easier to use when stressed.

Reminder

This workbook is for self-reflection and practice. It is not a substitute for professional care.

Form 12

Mixed Emotions and Inner Conflict

Work with more than one emotion at the same time.

What this form is for

To support emotional awareness and regulation by naming feelings, intensity, triggers, body signals, and responses.

How to use it

Choose one recent situation or recurring emotional pattern. Work with mild to moderate intensity when practicing alone.

How intense is the emotion right now?

Before writing, rate from 0 (low) to 10 (very strong):

0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	----

Emotion and trigger

What emotion is present?

What situation or thought activated it?

What made it stronger?

Body and urge

Where do I feel this in my body?

What does the emotion push me to do?

What is the earliest sign I can notice?

Helpful response

What helps reduce intensity slightly?

What response protects me without making things worse?

Who or what can support me?

Learning

What did I learn about this emotion?

What tool do I want to practice?

What will I try next time?

Practice suggestion

Choose one regulation tool and practice it once when calm, so it is easier to use when stressed.

Reminder

This workbook is for self-reflection and practice. It is not a substitute for professional care.

Form 13

Calming Inner Conversation

Build self-talk that validates emotion and guides action.

What this form is for

To support emotional awareness and regulation by naming feelings, intensity, triggers, body signals, and responses.

How to use it

Choose one recent situation or recurring emotional pattern. Work with mild to moderate intensity when practicing alone.

How intense is the emotion right now?

Before writing, rate from 0 (low) to 10 (very strong):

0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	----

Emotion and trigger

What emotion is present?

What situation or thought activated it?

What made it stronger?

Body and urge

Where do I feel this in my body?

What does the emotion push me to do?

What is the earliest sign I can notice?

Helpful response

What helps reduce intensity slightly?

What response protects me without making things worse?

Who or what can support me?

Learning

What did I learn about this emotion?

What tool do I want to practice?

What will I try next time?

Practice suggestion

Choose one regulation tool and practice it once when calm, so it is easier to use when stressed.

Reminder

This workbook is for self-reflection and practice. It is not a substitute for professional care.

Form 14

Personal Regulation Plan

Collect patterns, triggers, tools, and next steps.

What this form is for

To support emotional awareness and regulation by naming feelings, intensity, triggers, body signals, and responses.

How to use it

Choose one recent situation or recurring emotional pattern. Work with mild to moderate intensity when practicing alone.

How intense is the emotion right now?

Before writing, rate from 0 (low) to 10 (very strong):

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

Emotion and trigger

What emotion is present?

What situation or thought activated it?

What made it stronger?

Body and urge

Where do I feel this in my body?

What does the emotion push me to do?

What is the earliest sign I can notice?

Helpful response

What helps reduce intensity slightly?

What response protects me without making things worse?

Who or what can support me?

Learning

What did I learn about this emotion?

What tool do I want to practice?

What will I try next time?

Practice suggestion

Choose one regulation tool and practice it once when calm, so it is easier to use when stressed.

Reminder

This workbook is for self-reflection and practice. It is not a substitute for professional care.