

Thoughts Before Sleep

♥ I can notice bedtime thoughts and choose a calmer one.

1 What thoughts may show up at night?

What if I can't sleep?

What if something bad happens?

I feel alone in the dark.

My brain won't turn off.

2 What else could be true?

I am safe in my room.

My body can rest even if sleep takes time.

Grown-ups are nearby.

Thoughts are not dangers.

3 What helps my mind slow down?

Slow breathing

Hug a pillow or stuffed toy

Soft music or white noise

Say a calm sentence

4 One helpful bedtime thought ★

5 My brave reminder

I can rest.

My thoughts can pass.

Night can feel safer.

I can choose a calmer thought before sleep.

Fear of the Dark

I can make the dark feel safer and ask for support.

1

What can help the dark feel safer?

Night-light

Door open

Favorite stuffed toy

Grown-up check-in 2

What can I say to myself?

My room is still my room.

I am safe right now.

I can ask for help.

I can look for familiar things.

3

Things I can notice in the dark

My blanket

My breathing

My room shapes

A safe sound

4

My dark-time plan

5

My brave reminder

I can use my light.

I can stay cozy and safe.

Help is nearby.

I can feel safer in the dark one step at a time.

My Bedtime Routine

A bedtime routine helps my body know it is time to sleep.

1 My bedtime steps

Bath
or wash

Pajamas

Brush teeth

Use the bathroom

2 Quiet steps

Read a book

Drink water

Dim the lights

Cuddle a stuffed toy

3 What happens next?

In bed

One calm thought

Lights low

Good-night check-in

4 My bedtime order

5 My brave reminder

Routines help.

My body can learn bedtime.

I can get ready to rest.

My bedtime routine helps me move toward sleep.

5.1.4

My Body Gets Ready for Sleep

I can notice how my body starts to get sleepy.

1 My body may start to...

Yawn

Eyes feel heavy

Body feels slower

Want quiet

2 Things that help my body get sleepy

Slow breaths

Stretch gently

Warm blanket

Gentle music

3 Rest can feel like...

Warm

Calm

Heavy

Cozy

4 What helps my body feel ready?

5 My brave reminder

My body can learn bedtime.

Sleepy feelings are okay.

I can help my body slow down.

I can notice my body getting ready for sleep.

5.1.5

Things That Calm Me

I can notice which things help me feel calmer at night.

1 Comforting things

Soft toy

Warm blanket

Night-light

Water

2 Calming actions

Hand on heart

Slow breathing

Listen to soft sounds

Color or doodle before bed

3 People who help

Parent

Caregiver

Sibling

Therapist

4 My top calm helpers tonight

5 My brave reminder

I can use my calm tools.

Small helpers matter.

Calm can grow.

I can choose tools that help me feel calm at night.

My Calm Night Card

I can carry calm night steps with me.

1 What helps me at night

Breathe

Hold my stuffed toy

Use my night-light

Call a safe grown-up

2 My calm sentence ideas

I am safe right now.

My body can rest.

I can breathe slowly.

Help is nearby.

3 My go-to calm sentence

4 What helps me remember?

Hand on heart

Soft breathing

Look at my card

Stay with a safe person

5 My Calm Night Card

I am safe.
I can breathe slowly.
I can stay cozy.
Help is near.

My calm night card can travel with me.

When I Wake Up

If I wake up at night, I can get calm again.

1 What can I notice?

I am awake.

My room is the same.

My body can slow down.

Grown-ups are nearby.

2 What helps me next?

Slow breaths

Hug my pillow

Take a sip of water

Use my calm sentence

3 If I need support

Call a safe adult

Door open

Night-light on

Quiet check-in

4 My wake-up plan

5 My brave reminder

I can wake up and get calm again.

I can ask for help.

My room can feel safe.

I can wake up at night and find my calm steps.

Staying in Bed Safely

I can stay in bed and help my body feel safer.

1 Things I can do in bed

Hug my blanket

Hand on my belly

Slow breathing

Look at one cozy thing

2 Things that help me stay safe

Night-light

Door open

Stuffed toy

Grown-up nearby

3 What I can tell myself

My bed is safe.

I can rest here.

I am not alone.

I can ask for help.

4 My safe-in-bed steps

5 My brave reminder

I can stay in bed safely.

I can use my calm tools.

Help is nearby.

I can stay in bed and feel safer one step at a time.

♥ I can notice my night worries and choose a helpful thought.

1 What worries may say

What if
I can't sleep?

What if something bad happens?

What if tomorrow is hard?

What if I need someone?

2 Helpful truths

Worries are thoughts,
not facts.

I am safe
right now.

I can rest even while getting sleepy.

Grown-ups can help me.

3 What helps worries get smaller

Slow breathing

Say one calm sentence

Talk to a safe adult

Draw or park the worry

4 One worry and one helpful thought

One worry: _____

One helpful thought: _____

5 My brave reminder

Night worries can get smaller.

I can ask for help.

I can choose a helpful thought.

♥ I can notice a worry and choose support.

My Personal Sleep Plan

My sleep plan helps my body move toward rest.

1 Things that help me before bed

Bath or wash

Book

Drink water

Night-light

2 My best calm tools

Slow breathing

Stuffed toy

Calm sentence

Warm blanket

3 People who help me

Family

Caregiver

Therapist

Safe adult

4 My sleep plan tonight

5 My brave reminder

My sleep plan helps.

I can use one step at a time.

My body can rest.

I can use my sleep plan to help my body rest.

