

8.6 My Back-to-Balance Plan

Building a personal mini-plan for sleep, body, overload, and calming down.

1. My signs when I am out of balance

How do my body, sleep, feelings, or thoughts look and feel?

2. What helps me return to balance?

Things that help me feel better in my body, sleep, lowering overload, and calming down.

4. Three small steps for this week

Small, realistic steps that I choose to try this week.

3. Who can help me?

People I can rely on or who can be with me.

5. What will I do when it gets hard?

My personal coping plan — what will help me in stressful moments.

6. A personal reminder to myself

Sentences that strengthen me and help me return to balance.

I do not need to do everything at once —
one small step is enough to begin.
